

SDS Militants Caught in Raid

CHICAGO (AP) — Police swept through Covenant Methodist Church in suburban Evanston early today and arrested 43 youths camped there. About 100 other youths were left undisturbed.

The surprise raid by about 100 Chicago and Evanston policemen came on the final day of the four-day "action" called by members of the Students for a Democratic Society.

Most of those in the church apparently were members of the militant Weathermen faction of the SDS which rampaged through the North Side Wednesday, breaking windows and fighting with police.

There have been sporadic disturbances and demonstrations since Wednesday. The Weathermen said 5,000 to 15,000 persons would gather in Chicago for "the most militant demonstration in the history of the New Left." About 500 or less have appeared, however.

Guardsmen Called
Some 2,000 Illinois National Guardsmen were stationed in the city's armories after Wednesday's disturbances.

Police raiding the church said they had warrants for six SDS members who allegedly beat an undercover detective in another Evanston church Friday night.

Evanston Police Capt. James Gillespie said three of those named in the warrants were arrested. The others seized, Gillespie said, were recognized by detectives as having participated in Wednesday's rampage.

The youths apparently had permission to stay overnight in the church. The pastor, the Rev. Dale Nelson, said police entered by breaking down the doors rather than waiting for him to get keys.

Wealthy Area
Covenant Methodist is a well appointed church in the wealthiest section of Evanston.

SDS activities Friday were limited to demonstrations at Cook County Hospital by the less militant SDS faction, the Revolutionary Youth Movement II.

About 25 sheriff's deputies carrying four-foot clubs stood guard around the Civic Center Friday night. They said there had been a report that radicals planned to break ground floor windows of the 31-story Loop building.

There were no incidents.

One of two marches scheduled for today was outlined Friday at a press conference called by RYM II: the Young Lords, a Puerto Rican youth organization; and the Black Panthers.

Michael Klonsky, head of RYM II, said the demonstrators would seek to avoid any confrontations with police as they march in support of the Puerto Rican independence movement and against the Vietnam war.

Today is the last day of scheduled protest activities.

'Intercept' at U.S.-Mexican Border Halted

Neighbor Agrees To Intensify Its Narcotics Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Operation Intercept has been called off, but not before the United States gained its hidden objective of forcing Mexico to pledge tougher measures to cut off illegal drugs at their source.

Amid rising outrage north and south of the border, both governments conceded Friday that the 20 days of tough, no-nonsense inspections of cars crossing into the United States had caused international "irritations and frictions."

Officials of the two governments had met for three days at the Justice Department to work out a compromise.

"Operation Cooperation"
The joint Treasury-Justice Department border crackdown will be replaced by "Operation Cooperation." The United States will "adjust its procedures" for inspections and Mexico will "continue intensifying its own enforcement programs against illicit production and traffic of narcotics, marijuana and other dangerous drugs."

Operation Cooperation will include Cabinet-level meetings beginning Oct. 27 in Mexico City in the hope of dealing with the narcotics problem and working out immediate solutions.

Despite the agreement, however, customs officials on the 2,500-mile border had not been given new orders Friday night.

"We're going right ahead with the way we've been conducting the searches until we hear differently," said Vernon Hann, chief customs officer at San Ysidro, Calif.

Although Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst said in mid-September the main purpose was to cripple smuggling, both administration and congressional sources say that was a cover story.

Its real purpose, they say, was to put pressure on the Mexican government to increase its efforts inside Mexico to stamp out marijuana growing and smuggling.

Nixon Ousts Hershey As Director of Draft

Still-Unnamed Civilian to Take Over Feb. 16

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new assignment and promotion will soften the blow, but "Mister Draft"—Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey—will be relieved of his duties as director of Selective Service next Feb. 16.

The White House announced Friday the 76-year-old Hershey, head of the draft since 1941, will be reassigned as advisor to the President on manpower mobilization.

This will end his authority over the system he designed and directed as it called up would nominate Hershey to the rank of full general—a rank now held by only 16 men—and said the nation owes Hershey a "well done" for his distinguished service.

Leaving Reluctantly

Hershey declined comment, but there seemed little doubt he was leaving reluctantly, fired by a President whose draft views he supported with something less than enthusiasm.

Hershey, who is almost blind, had often said he did not plan to resign voluntarily unless he became too ill to do his job.

Ziegler said, in answer to questions, that Hershey is "in excellent health and in excellent spirits."

Asked whether Hershey or the President had initiated Hershey's reassignment, Ziegler responded, "The President made the determination to give Gen. Hershey the new responsider next January to make 19-to-20-year-olds the prime draft pool, with progressively decreasing draft liability in succeeding years. At present the draft pool is 19 to 26, with the oldest eligible men drafted first.

Hershey once said such a change could be administered, but would only complicate the workings of the Selective Service System.

Nixon is pressing for congressional authorization to replace the present selection-by-birth-day with a lottery system of selection.

Hershey endorsed it last May, but had said only 16 months earlier, "I don't think anyone talking about a lottery knows what they are talking about."

Volunteer Army

As for Nixon's advocacy of an all-volunteer army, Hershey has maintained for three decades that such a system was historically a "miserable and almost fatal failure," not to be relied upon in an emergency.

Hershey and the draft system drew criticism, dissent and resistance throughout World War II, the Korean conflict and the Vietnam war.

Hershey is proud the delicate, unpopular work of the draft system has been done without scandal.

But in recent years criticism has grown. Hershey himself has received a constant stream of it since advising draft boards in 1967 to reclassify for induction demonstrators who illegally obstruct the Selective Service System or harm the national interest.

Critics contended he was attempting to use the draft to punish dissenters—a charge he denied.

Announcement of the reassignment came after the President summoned Hershey for a 50-minute discussion.

Hershey was born Sept. 12, 1893, on an Indiana farm, a descendant of Mennonite pacifists. Scarcely out of high school himself, he taught in country schools while continuing his own education, eventually earning his Bachelor of Pedagogy.

Meanwhile, he had joined the

Nationwide Program

Knowles to Ask Building Deferral

MADISON (AP) — Gov. Warren P. Knowles said Friday he would "recommend that Wisconsin participate in the nationwide construction deferral program" requested by President Nixon.

The Republican governor said he also would "urge that individual Wisconsin local governments join this effort" in cooperating with Nixon's appeal for states to cut back construction programs on their own.

Nixon announced plans to curb federal construction as an anti-inflationary move, and urged that state and local governments do the same.

"Severe inflationary problems are caused by high levels of construction and high construction worker wage increases," Knowles said.

"Wisconsin must await the national guidelines of the technical task force before deciding upon a specific, project-by-project, construction deferral program" for the state, he said.

When Nixon originally announced his cutback plans, he said highway funds for the states would not be affected. Wisconsin already has received federal money for highway construction promised in two fiscal quarters this year.

Knowles said he planned to call a special meeting of the State Building Commission Oct. 20 to determine what specific Wisconsin projects would be deferred.

"Construction deferrals should continue only as long as the construction inflationary emergency exists," Knowles said. "As soon as that emergency is over, necessary deferred projects should be implemented."

Knowles said important construction projects involving accelerated water pollution abatement programs and highway bridge replacement were currently under consideration by the state legislature "and legislative action should continue without regard to the construction deferral program."

Vigilantes Disbanded In Belfast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A plan for the reorganization of Northern Ireland's police force prompted Roman Catholics in Londonderry today to disband a vigilante group that had controlled the embattled Bogside district since the August riots.

Sean Keenan, chairman of the Derry Citizens' Defense Association, said his organization would "now stand down" and place its trust in the British and Northern Ireland governments.

The association had ruled Bogside like a mini-parliament since rioting between Catholics and Protestants erupted there. The Catholics kept British troops and Northern Ireland police out of their enclave, saying they trusted only themselves to keep order.

Keenan made his announcement after Prime Minister James Chichester-Clark announced a sweeping police reorganization plan under which the all-Protestant B-Specials constabulary is to be disbanded and almost all policemen are to be disarmed.

Chichester-Clark also promised vigorous efforts to increase the number of Catholics on the police force and closer cooperation with British police authorities.

Northern Ireland's police inspector general, Anthony Peacock, resigned less than an hour after the reorganization was announced. He was replaced by Sir Arthur Young, a 62-year-old London police chief.

Kidnap Plot Foiled

Wealthy Las Vegas Man Flees Captors

RENO, Nev. (AP)—A wealthy Las Vegas landowner dashed across a darkened field to end what police described as a fantastic $800,000 kidnap plot.

Two men were arrested and a third person was being sought today.

The victim, Dean Petersen, 35, escaped from his abductors Friday night by somehow breaking a set of handcuffs, slipping from a small house-trailer, then running a quarter-mile across the field to a crowded supermarket where he telephoned the sheriff's office.

"I don't know how I got here," a policeman said Petersen mumbled as he was taken to the police station for questioning. He looked haggard, but had not been harmed. He was unshaven, and the plaid shirt he was wearing hung outside his trousers.

Later, looking calm and refreshed, Petersen met briefly with newsmen.

"I am very happy to be here," he said quietly. "I thank the law enforcement and other agencies for their cooperation."

Asked whether he had feared for his life during his 24 hours of confinement, Petersen replied, "Yes," then said he would have no further comment immediately.

Police gave this account: Petersen was kidnapped at gunpoint by two men Thursday afternoon in a parking lot near his office in downtown Las Vegas, locked into the rear of the house-trailer and driven 450 miles to Reno. He was guarded the entire trip by armed abductors.

Talked to Sister
He was allowed to talk once to son, and when she answered here," a policeman said Petersen was put on the line. Then the male voice came back on and told Mrs. Johnson that if she wanted to see her brother alive again, she was to take the first plane to Reno Friday morning.

She did, and met three times in Reno with a man identified by police as one of the abductors—the first man taken into custody—and was told that she would have to pay an $800,000 ransom for Petersen, police said.

Agreed to Demand
Mrs. Johnson agreed to the demand, and by Friday night the money had been assembled in $5 and $10 bills in Las Vegas. It filled two large suitcases.

To stall for time, Mrs. Johnson said raising the ransom would take at least until Monday. It was to be flown to Reno aboard a chartered jet Monday. Petersen, meanwhile, was being held in the trailer, his hands manacled and a length of clothesline binding his feet and running around his neck. He somehow worked himself loose, then ran.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Hershey's successor, "very likely" a civilian, has not been selected, but will be named "in the very near future."

He will be appointed deputy director of Selective Service, Ziegler said, and Hershey's main job for the next few months would be to show the new man the ropes.

When the new draft director takes over Feb. 16, Hershey is to assume his new task: advising on manpower mobilization problems, aiding the transition to a youngest-first draft system, and helping to develop a standby draft for the day when the nation can turn to an all-volunteer armed force.

State Schools to Observe Moratorium

BY DENNIS J. SORESENSEN

Associated Press Writer

Most Wisconsin colleges and universities will be sites for Oct. 15 observances of the national Vietnam war moratorium day. But in almost every case, school administrators remain neutral.

Officials at most schools have refused to cancel classes so that students and faculty members could take part in discussion and demonstrations concerning the war. May administrators did, however, set aside specific campus buildings and areas where moratorium events could be held at the discretion of teachers and students.

The faculty at Lawrence University in Appleton passed a resolution urging its members to cancel or postpone their classes and calling for students to take part in discussions of the war. But the administration has not called off classes.

St. Norbert College in West DePera appeared to be the only school to take official note of the day by placing a moratorium on business-as-usual.

College President Dr. Robert

Christin met with students and faculty to plan activities for the day. He said he was opposed to an anti-Vietnam war approach, and that he favored discussion of all sides of the issue.

Gilbert M. Sauer of West Bend, commander of the Wisconsin Department of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, urged that all citizens, especially the 40,000 state VFW members, fly the American flag Oct. 15 "as a silent sign of counteraction" to demonstrations planned on campuses.

Sauer said the demonstrations would undermine the United States' position in the Paris peace talks and would "further endanger the lives of our fighting men in Vietnam."

He said the "silent majority of patriotic Americans should proudly display the flag of the United States" to show that they "still have confidence in our government and are willing to show it publicly."

Perhaps the most notable student to announce his plans to participate in moratorium events was John Laird of Eau Claire State, the son of Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird.

Young Laird said his father was aware of his plans to take part in a planned march at the school, and that his father did not object.

"I thought it was great of him not to object," young Laird said. He said he felt his father had done as much as anyone could to end the war, "but it's hard to end something you didn't start."

In Washington, the secretary said he would raise no objection to his son's participation in Eau Claire State's Oct. 15 activities. The Pentagon said Laird "told his son that this was a decision that he would have to make for himself, and that his own position on the right of dissent—so long as it is legal and responsible—is well known."

Many campuses reported that state or local dignitaries would participate in moratorium programs.

Former state Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette was scheduled to speak at Whitewater State. Patrick Lucey, a former lieutenant governor and announced Democratic gubernatorial candidate, was expected to appear at Ripon College.

At the state's largest school, the University of Wisconsin, some of the 35,000 students were planning class boycotts, rallies, marches and a fast. UW has been the scene of violent anti-war protests in the past, including a 1967 outburst that left 70 persons injured.

The Rev. Fred Reuziger of St. Paul's Catholic Center in Madison, a leader of the UW moratorium planning, said businessmen, students, workers and teachers were being asked to set aside "business-as-usual" to demonstrate popular support for and end to the war. "But we urge no one to undertake disruptive activities of any kind," he said.

In Milwaukee, an antiwar group plans a parade on Wisconsin Avenue, the city's main thoroughfare, and a rally at the War Memorial Center.

Marquette University and the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee both scheduled class as usual, but set aside rooms where moratorium activities could be held, as long as they do not interfere with normal school business.

The Beloit College faculty approved "discussions concerning the effects of continued U.S. participation in the Vietnam War" but cautioned that the discussions would be "at the discretion of individual faculty and students."

Dr. Byron Barrington, acting dean at the University of Wisconsin Marathon County campus said school facilities would be available for students who

First Congregational UCC Will be Dedicated Oct. 19

A new church of contemporary design to fit a contemporary era will be dedicated Oct. 19.

The $1.3 million First Congregational United Church of Christ (UCC), probably the largest church project in the area to date, includes a sanctuary and education wing. It serves about 1,700 members.

It is located on E. South River Street on the banks of the Fox River, and serves about 1,700 members. Dedication services will be at 9:15 and 11 a.m. The cornerstone will be laid between services and an open house is set from 2 to 5 p.m.

Congregationalists, in company with Presbyterians possessed of a missionary zeal, came to the areas inhabited by the Stockbridge and Oneida Indians in the vicinity of south Kaukauna in the early 19th century.

Settlement Began

By 1848, the Appleton settlement was underway, and these Presbyterians and Congregationalists, operating under the Congregational and Presbyterian Convention of Wisconsin, appear to have organized under one or the other of the denominational names, depending upon group sentiment.

The first recorded meeting in the existing Congregational church record was Dec. 18, 1850, with the Rev. Jeremiah Porter of the Presbyterian church of Green Bay as moderator. Two days after Christmas that year the Church and Society of the First Congregational Church and Society of Appleton was formed.

Four years later, a church was dedicated, with the Rev. Edward Cooke, first president of Lawrence, giving the prayer and dedication address. On that same night the Rev. Charles W. Munroe, who has been acting as scribe as well as pastor, was installed formally as first pastor.

Even in those early days Appleton Congregationalists demanded week-long utility from their church, starting in the tiny structure on the lot donated by Amos Lawrence. It was enlarged in 1889 and became known as the "Old Brown Church." Ultimately it was replaced by the Romanesque red brick church on Lawrence street at the top of the Oneida street hill.

Early accounts testify to the intense involvement of Congregationalists with their church and community, documenting revival meetings conducted in cooperation with Methodists and Baptists, joint Sunday school picnics, Fourth of July celebrations, Christmas programs, temperance lectures, joint Thanksgiving services and lectures by visiting speakers.

The cast of characters, lay and clergy, who have spearheaded Congregationalism in Appleton has been a colorful one.

There was the Rev. Dr. John Faville, who juggled church with civic duties and served as term as mayor of Appleton; there was the Rev. Franklin Doe, later superintendent of the American Home Missionary Society of Wisconsin, and F. J. Harwood, whose family still is active in church and civic work and who became moderator of the Congregational Church in the United States.

The succession of ministers also includes the Rev. H. H. Benson, who succeeded the Rev. M. Munroe; the Rev. Dr. Harry E. Peabody, a New Englander and the prototype of a minister; the Rev. John Hanna, a dynamic speaker who served from World War I through the depression years.

Heart Attack

Of Assessor

Coroner's Ruling
On John Pierre
Follows Examination

A heart attack was the cause of the death Friday morning of John A. Pierre, 74, Appleton city assessor, according to a ruling by Outagamie County Coroner Bernard C. Kemps.

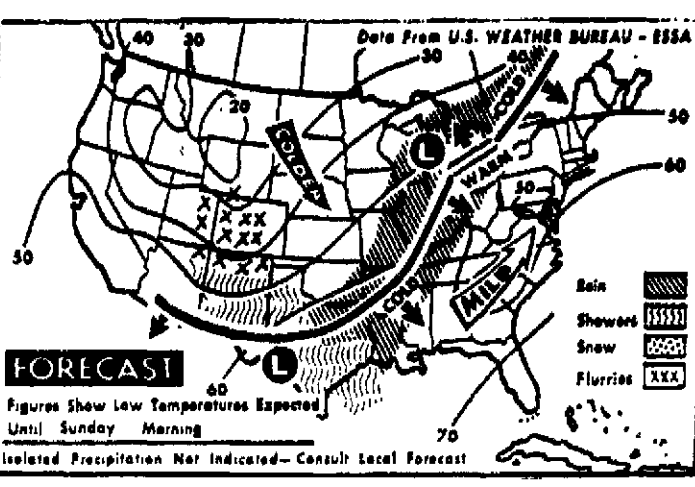

The ruling followed a post mortem examination. Kemps said a fall down a short flight of stairs was the result of the heart attack, but injuries resulting from the fall did not contribute to death.

Private funeral services were being held this afternoon at Wichmann Funeral Home.

Pierre, who was city assessor since 1943, was a member of First Church of Christ, Scientist, where a memorial fund is being established in his name.

A Lions Club member, he also belonged to Masonic and veterans' organizations, including Wagerly Lodge No. 51, F&AM, Royal Arch Chapter 47, Appleton Commanderie 29 and Knights Templar. He was a 32nd-degree Mason and a member of the Shrine.

Also a member of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, the World War I veteran held a Purple Heart and was a member of the Rainbow Division veterans' group.

Snow Flurries Are Due Tonight over Utah and Colorado, tapering off to showers from Arizona and New Mexico through the lower Mississippi Valley. Rain is also expected along the Mississippi Valley to the Lakes area. It will be warmer along the mid and south Atlantic coast. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Search Goes

At Algoma Pier

Special to The Post-Crescent

ALGOMA — The search for the bodies of two men drowned in Algoma's inner harbor Thursday afternoon continued today.

Ronald Leist, 30, an Algoma policeman, was drowned while attempting to save a Milwaukee fisherman who was swept into the wind-whipped waters as waves washed over the breakwater.

Another Milwaukee fisherman, Wallace Schulist, about 32, was also drowned. Frank Pletcher, 22, was pulled from the waters by Mayor Arthur Deltman.

Searchers were hampered by a strong undercurrent which also prevented divers from assisting in the search.

The Milwaukee men were fishing with a party of eight Thursday afternoon. The other six were fishing on the north pier while Pletcher and Schulist were on the south pier.

Although dragging operations have been concentrated on the inner harbor authorities said there was a possibility that the bodies could have been swept out of the harbor by the strong current. Water in the inner harbor is extremely muddy due to dragging operations.

Indiana National Guard in 1911, on Feb. 16—the date now chosen, Ziegler pointed out, for his departure from Selective Service.

As a guardsman, Hershey was sent to the Mexican border in 1916, then to France in 1917, although he did not see combat in World War I.

In 1920, Hershey entered the regular army.

Lost an Eye

Six years later a polo accident at Fort Bliss, Tex., cost him his right eye, and he now wears a glass eye to replace it. In recent years he has almost lost the sight of his left eye as well.

Assigned to the personnel section of the general staff during the 1930s, Hershey was analyzing the World War I draft system when war broke out in Europe in 1939.

His study became the basis of the Selective Service Act passed in 1940. Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, then president of the University of Wisconsin, was appointed to head the new system but gave up after six months of trying to combine both jobs.

Hershey was appointed in his place and has headed the draft ever since, including a caretaking role when the system was temporarily mothballed from 1947 to 1948. He retired from military service Dec. 31, 1946, was recalled the next day by President Truman and has remained on active duty ever since.

Hershey and his wife, Ellen, are the parents of four children including a son who was wounded in Korea, and the grandparents of 13.

request them. But he cautioned that "student protests are in disfavor with the public right now, and an antiwar movement may be hurt by close association with student movements."

David Hogue, dean of student affairs at La Crosse State, said he would maintain the "classic university position of neutrality." He said he hoped a planned march would not result in violence or property damage.

The dean at the University of Wisconsin Marinette campus, William Schmidtke, said his school would "make facilities of the campus available to those persons who wish to observe the day with a debate, panel, films lectures or any similar activity as long as there is no disruption of classes and as long as no faculty member or students absent themselves from their classes."

"This university does not and will not take an institutional position on the call for a moratorium against the war," said Whitewater State President William L. Carter.

He said the university was "committed to a position of neutrality on political issues. Any university that seriously considers itself a free, intellectual institution must not have a political mission. To take one on would lead to certain university destruction."

Dr. Roger Guiles, president at Oshkosh State, said regular classes would be held at the Oshkosh and Fond du Lac campuses, but "every effort will be made to make facilities available for those who wish to schedule specific meetings, forums or discussions for the purpose of considering issues pertaining to the war."

Guiles noted that if meetings or other events conflict with class schedules, students would have to "make a personal choice."

Chancellor Irvin G. Willie of the University of Wisconsin Parksides campus near Kenosha, said: "We have a responsibility to guarantee that the classes for which students are registered are offered as scheduled. We intend to take that responsibility seriously."

President Lee S. Dreyfus of Stevens Point State expressed the attitude of most administrators around the state.

He said non-violent demonstrations could be held as long as no effort was made to keep students from attending classes.

No special administrative action will be taken, Dreyfus said, and "rules for Oct. 15 will be the same as for the 14th and 16th."

Short Circuit Starts
Fire, Damages Auto

A short in electrical wiring was blamed for a fire that damaged a small foreign car owned by James Krull, 1533 N. Harriman St.

The car was at Wisconsin Avenue and Union Street about 3:15 p.m. Thursday when the fire broke out. The car had to be towed away. There was damage to the engine compartment, firefighters said.

Truck Hits
Little Chute
Utility Poles

LITTLE CHUTE — Several village residents were without electrical power and telephone service for several hours Friday morning when a semi-trailer truck driven by Leon Birkholz, 22, 1801 S. Memorial Drive, Appleton, left the road and struck two utility poles.

According to police, Birkholz was traveling east in the 700 block of W. Main Street about 9:30 a.m. and, as he reached to pick up some paper, which fell to the floor of the cab, his vehicle left the road and struck a telephone pole. Before he could regain control of the vehicle, it hit a second pole.

Extensive damage was done to the truck which traveled 260 feet after leaving the road.

Birkholz signed a stipulation of guilt and posted a $30 bond on a charge of inattentive driving.

Eulogy to a Well-Loved Man

John Pierre always ran. He never walked. He always had a smile on his face as he moved straight and tall around his town. And he moved fast. You noticed when John Pierre went by, and you turned your head. Maybe he said something friendly as he passed. But he had somewhere to go, something to do. He never stopped. John Pierre loved his town every minute, and he let you know it. He made you love your town too, and he never stopped.

UW Building Should Proceed

President Nixon's plea to the states to put off construction as an anti-inflation measure is easy to support in its policy form. The real crunch comes when states must decide what to do about projects already in the works, or when they must weigh established needs for new projects. Such a tough decision is before the State Building Commission Monday. It must decide whether to proceed with the long-planned $1 million Communications Arts Building on the Madison campus of the University of Wisconsin. Because of the documented need for the building and because abandoning the financing and construction plans would only mean greater costs later, the commission should vote to go ahead. The building will house the UW Journalism school, the speech department, radio and television studios for the mother station of the state network and several theaters and auditoriums. All of these departments have pressing space needs and, more importantly, needs for updated instructional facilities. The journalism school, for example, has been knocking around for 60 years from one crowded old building to another. At present, it operates in the abandoned Wisconsin High School and shares the building with two other university departments. Land for the new building was obtained after long and painful negotiations among

That is why the people of his town elected him to the public office of assessor for 26 straight years. For 26 years he kept on learning more about his job, and he became the best in his trade. For 26 years, in a position where fairness meant everything, he kept on trying to be fair. During that entire time, he worked to serve the people all of the time. And from him the service was always good. And then, on Friday, he finally stopped.

the university, the City of Madison and private businesses. It is now being cleared. Financing for the building, which may be lost through a delay, includes a $500,000 federal grant and a three per cent federal loan. A $1 million grant from the Vilas Trust was obtained after construction bids went over the earlier estimates. If the building commission sidetracks the building to turn the project into a parking lot or an empty lot, it could face still another threat. Assembly Speaker Harold Froehlich says he intends to introduce a bill which would prohibit construction of the building and which would take back the funds which already have been authorized for it. Froehlich's anti-university carrying-on is just too much in this instance. In this instance, he talks of the Communications Arts Building as a place intended to compete with Hollywood and the television networks and, no less, a building which could be used to produce nude shows at the taxpayers' expense. The speaker's remarks may have been intended for a one-day-only press release. But the building commission has much more serious business before it. Giving weight to all the factors before it, the commission should vote to proceed with a building which has been long needed and one which has moved to the point of construction.

General's Dealings Need Inspection

The revelations about the gun deals made by Major General Carl C. Turner seem ample reason for the revocation of his Distinguished Service Medal, a move the Army now has taken. But maybe the Army and others should go farther to correct the situation. General Turner conceded that he was given an undetermined number of confiscated weapons by the Chicago Police Department and that he signed a statement certifying that they would be used only for military purposes or destroyed. However, he contends that this was a mere formality and that Chicago Police Superintendent James Conlisk told him it was just for the record. Mr. Conlisk flatly says that the general is lying. The general further says that a notebook containing all his gun transactions — and he has a license as a firearms dealer under the Federal Firearms Act — has mysteriously disappeared. He wrote up another ledger, but it contained no reference to several hundred which he allegedly received from a number of police departments. Some of the guns have turned up in a North Carolina investigation and some are reported to have gone to Haiti revolutionaries. The general concedes that he sold some for about $2,000. This all can be the result of temptation of one man and not a condemnation of the Army of anyone else concerned with the case. But there are disturbing side questions. The Illinois statute which permits of the disposal of confiscated weapons states that such weapons, "when no longer needed for evidentiary purposes, shall, at the discretion of the trial court, be destroyed, preserved as county property, delivered to the armed forces of the United States or the Illinois National Guard or sold." There seems to be no record that the transaction involving the disposal to General Turner was ever approved by a court. Is this a commonplace occurrence? General Turner had resigned as Army provost marshal general a full two weeks before the transaction and yet there was no attempt to determine that he was still actively in the employ of the United States Army. Chicago officials have explained that at least twice he showed up in full military uniform, which supposedly quelled any doubts. Even more amazing, it seems that General Turner was under government investigation because of the adventures of a group of sergeants who apparently were making quite a killing in the funds of Army NCO clubs around the world, at the very time he was appointed by the Nixon Administration to the post of chief United States marshal. There must be an appalling lack of liaison among government agencies when this can happen. It is an obvious embarrassment for President Nixon, who is not expected personally to investigate every appointment, but can at least demand that full information concerning potential appointees be available to him. Surely there are crooked individuals in every walk of life. But the Turner case shows that there are insufficient safeguards to keep them out of top military echelons, and that the deference paid to generals sometimes encourages crookedness.

Looking Backward No Apologies for Appearance

100 YEARS AGO Quoted from the Appleton Post for Oct. 21, 1869 We do not propose to offer an apology for the appearance of our paper this week; but this much we will say; just as soon as we can increase our advertising patronage, we will print both tirades at home, and thereby be enabled to furnish more local matter; and that is what we depend on for success. Prof. Slowers, late of Lawrence University and the present president of the Northwestern University of Iowa, has recently been in the city. He is delighted with his new home and with the State of Iowa in general. The professor is an earnest advocate of educational interests, and always has as many friends as he has acquaintances. Success to him. 25 YEARS AGO Saturday, Oct. 7, 1944 Funeral services for former Governor Alfred E. Smith were held at 11 a.m. at St. Patrick Cathedral, New York, where the body of the "Happy Warrior" of American politics had lain in state overnight in an honor only once before accorded a layman. United States Fifth Army troops moved ahead another 2 miles to within 12 miles of the

Po Valley Communications center of Bologna as the Nazis were reported working frantically to evacuate strategic war materials from northern Italy to the Reich. BY KAY TATEISHI OSAKA, Japan (AP) — "Kakko I-I-I!" exclaimed a group of junior high school students peering through field glasses at the panoramic sweep of structures rising from the hills of Senri on the northwestern suburbs of Osaka, Japan's second major city. They crowded an observation platform that provides visitors a hill's-eye view of thousands of white-helmeted workers and moving cranes and dump trucks busily engaged in putting together Expo '70, the first world's fair to be held in Asia. It opens in March. The youngsters repeated "Kakko I-I-I!" — a bouncy popular expression meaning "breath-takingly stylish," "hot stuff" or "good show" — while a spanking blue and white four-coach monorail train on a trail run crawled along the perimeter of the 815-acre exhibition site. The Japanese are hustling to transform the sprawling bamboo forests and bushes of Senri hills, nine miles outside Osaka, into a fantastic wonderland that will delineate "progress and harmony for mankind," the theme of the 1970 Japan World Exposition. Expo '70 promises to be an exciting, dimensional showpiece of the world — past, present and future. Although still in the making, it should surpass the size and splendor of the highly successful 1967 World Fair at Montreal, Canada, which cost $20 million and attracted some 50 million people. WORK FEVERISHLY Thirty to 50 million visitors are expected at Expo '70. Hotels, inns and lodging houses are already booked solid, report tourist officials. The Japanese are working feverishly in hopes of having about two-thirds of Expo '70 ready for press preview in late November or early December. The over-all cost of the fair is estimated at $277 million, with 76 countries, including 17 from Asia, 12 from Africa, seven from Latin America and four international organizations taking part. More than 80 national pavilions, 32 domestic exhibit halls and a variety of others are scattered about the bowl-like grounds, 330 miles southwest of Tokyo. "Expo '70 was designed with future cities in mind," says Akira Takasaka, deputy director of information. "After it slips into the past as just another exposition, the site will remain a model city of the future." The symbol area, designed by artist Taro Okamoto and architect Kenzo Tang to summarize the theme of Expo '70, is in the center of the area. It is covered by the world's largest transparent roof, which weighs 4,000 tons and measures 356 feet wide and 997 feet long. Underneath is the festival plaza where visiting countries will present their national flags, dances and traditional festivals. Robots, including one over 70 feet tall, controlled by computers, will shift scenery and project dimensional images. Okamoto's mystifying Tower of the Sun will rise 198 feet into the sky from the roof of the symbol area. It will be flanked by two smaller structures known as the Tower of Motherhood and the Tower of Youth. 210 RESTAURANTS Expo officials to handle the crowds have lined up 55 escort guides, 150 hostess interpreters and 250 Miss Expo hostesses to be stationed throughout the fair. Another 1,500 hostesses will serve at the various pavilions. Expo has also enlisted 1,300 policemen and 2,000 guardsmen to help maintain order and to control the traffic. The Japanese have even installed a special computer to keep track of lost children and the world's largest air-conditioning unit to help spectators keep cool in Japan's humid summer. The Japanese are setting up 210 restaurants capable of seating 25,000 persons and serving 233,000 meals a day. The United States and the Soviet Union have extended their rivalry into Expo '70 where they will compete for honors with huge pavilions — one among the largest three and the other the tallest. Both are among structures that were blessed by Japanese Shinto priests at traditional ground-breaking ceremonies. The pavilions are located around seven plazas, named the days of the week, where visitors and sit and relax and watch the world walk by along broad asphalt avenues, down tree-lined streets, between whispering pools and gushing fountains. The pavilions, some a maze of intrinsic metal and man-made ingredients, can be reached by an assortment of transportation facilities including monorail, elevated transparent tunnels on moving side-walks, ball-shaped gondolas suspended from an aerial cableway, battery-powered cars and rubber-wheeled trolley buses. The trolleys are the gift from San Francisco to its sister city, Osaka. U. S. PAVILION HUGE Here's how some of the pavilions are shaping up: — The United States: When completed, the $10-million flying saucer-like structure will have an elliptical roof measuring 462-by-271 feet, enclosing 100,332 square feet of exhibition space. It is more than twice the area covered by the U. S. geodesic dome at Montreal Expo '67. The air-supported roof of translucent fiberglass fabric will be spread by high-strength steel cables anchored to a concrete rim. Four air compressors will keep the roof inflated. "She isn't much now," says W. Lee Flaxa, formerly of Bishop, Calif., and now an American engineer residing in Japan. "But we're satisfied. She's coming right along and she'll be ready by Feb. 15." In a separate pavilion is an American park made up of nine buildings and four general areas which will reflect typical American life. One area will be devoted to exhibits of a group of American states and cities. Another will serve as a showcase for American private enterprises and a third will introduce American foods, with a restaurant emphasizing variety, freedom of choice, self service and speed. Washington state will have its own pavilion, as will Hawaii. There will also be individual pavilions for such enterprises as Kodak, Pepsi-Cola and IBM. RED TOWER — The Soviet Union has constructed an imposing 330-foot-tall pavilion, the tallest in Expo '70, of steel structure topped by the Soviet hammer and sickle emblem. The $10 million-to-$20-million semi-circular pavilion, expected to be the costliest, is painted red and so shaped that its front also resembles the Soviet national emblem. It honors the 100th anniversary of the birth of Lenin. — Japan, the host nation, has a striking display of five pavilions that look like a mammoth set of drums. The pavilion is arranged in the circular pattern of the Expo '70 cherry blossom symbol. Its exhibits will depict the historical progress in Japanese culture, society and economy. The first pavilion is devoted to the "past," the second to "today," and the third deals with the present. The fourth and fifth pavilions are on "tomorrow possibilities." The Japanese will also have 25 other pavilions — some original and unique — devoted to private industries.

Mr. Nixon pledges himself to make "unpopular decisions" when he has to. He just hopes that his decision in 1972 to run again won't have to be included in that category. ★ ★ ★ Senator Murphy wants to send the battleship New Jersey around the world as an impressive symbol of United States might. Good thinking, Senator—it sure turned the trick off North Vietnam. ★ ★ ★ There's only one thing about the Vietnam war that everybody in Washington can agree on: It's a mess. ★ ★ ★ A senator warns of mutiny unless tax laws are reformed. Too late—the plan's already afoot to have a band of taxpayers, disguised as millionaires, meet in Boston Harbor and throw the Form 1040s overboard. ★ ★ ★ Some experts say three men are now running Red China in the absence of Mao, who is ill. Wisconsin Report Democrats Might Win Governor's Seat, But Why Do They Want It?

BY JOHN WYNGAARD MADISON — The eagerness of the Democrats to launch the next campaign for the control of the state government nearly a year hence, as shown by the anxious maneuvering of their actual and potential candidates for the governorship, may remind some of a favorite story of Abraham Lincoln. The story involves the man who had been tarred and feathered and was being run out of town on a rail, but who was making no special objection "because of the honor of the thing." John F. Kennedy, no less, after he had reached the White House, once told a crowd of Wisconsin politicians in a gubernatorial campaign that the governor of a state is the most expendable man in American politics. He was indubitably right. The travail of Warren Knowles in his third term is a good contemporary illustration. Even with his own party in control of both houses of the Legislature, it appears that some voters are disenchanted, and his troubles with the lawmakers are noisy enough for the hard of hearing to learn what is going on. Democrats are having an enjoyable time in the Legislature, being able to taunt and heckle and challenge, without the power or the responsibility of making good on their implied proposals for new and different and better ways of doing things. Implicitly, at least, they stand for getting rid of the new sales tax, as one example.

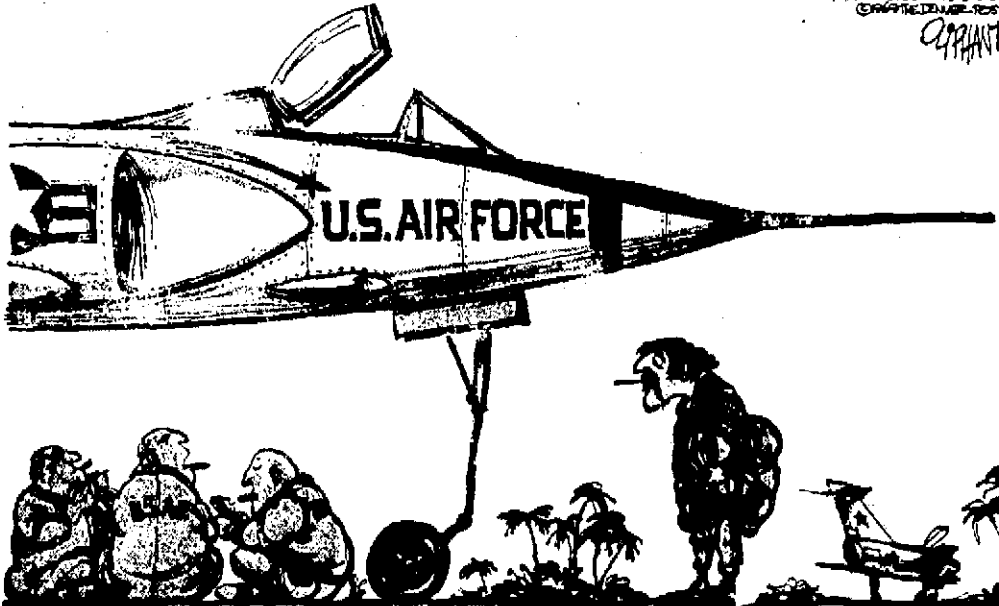

But could they do so if they elected a governor and a Legislature next year? It is extremely doubtful. The cost of replacement of the sales tax revenues, plus the continued escalation of public service costs and the more liberal public service programs the Democrats espouse as a party — with individual exceptions — would make the income tax liability so huge as to be prohibitive. And the income tax is the only feasible replacement for the sales tax, not to mention the property tax which the minority party has clamored about with such feverish persistence as to constitute a pledge for reductions amounting to hundreds of million dollars more in state tax liability. But is it conceivable that the Democrats will have the power to rule next year? It is possible to visualize, without special difficulty, the election of a Democratic governor. Students of state election history know that there is a tendency for the Assembly elections to swing with the gubernatorial choices of the electorate, and so Democratic control of the lower house does not strain the imagination. There have been two precedents during the last decade. SENATE SOLID GOP What is typically forgotten in the early speculations about the possible transfer of power in the elections is the solid Republican rock that has been the State Senate for so long, and the fact that only half the Senate is elected in each election year. So it requires a literal landslide for any party to take over its control. Whatever the outlook for 1970, a landslide has been unknown in Wisconsin politics for more than 20 years. Republicans now have 12 holdover senators, meaning that their terms have only begun and that therefore they will be on hand to serve with the next governor. There will be 17 seats up for election. Thus, the Republicans will need to win only five of them to insure veto control over whatever a possible Democratic executive proposes. And there are more than five historically safe Republican seats in that number. Two Senate vacancies recently caused by death have favored Republicans consistently for a long time and will probably do so again in interim special elections. Why should a Democrat want to be a governor next time? Perhaps for the honor of the thing, as the man in Mr. Lincoln's home town put it long ago.

Studded Tires Permitted on Wednesday

Snow tires with metal studs will be permitted in Wisconsin starting Wednesday, but must be removed after April 15, the American Automobile Association reminds.

Since last winter, Arkansas and Texas have joined the list of states giving the green light on studded tires. States that still prohibit such tires are Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Twenty-one states limit the period during which the metal stud may be used, starting as early as Oct. 1 and ending as late as May 1.

Most snow tires now are manufactured with holes drilled to permit insertion of the metal studs.

Whether a motorists purchases studded tires will depend on the type of highways traveled and the likelihood of heavy snow or ice, the AAA advises.

"There's plenty of evidence that the studs damage highway pavements," a AAA official said. "Tests are being conducted to determine the amount of damage, but it will always be a difficult judgment whether the price for increased traction and stopping ability — and safety — may be too high."

If studded tires were used

Police Foil Plans Of 2 Runaways From Milwaukee

Two runaway Milwaukee area teen-agers bound for Canada had their trip cut short by police Thursday afternoon.

State police took the boys, ages 14 and 16, into custody on U.S. 41, at Holland Road, when it was learned the driver had no license.

An Outagamie County sheriff's investigator learned the 16-year-old boy, who is from Germantown, purchased a 1951 car for $25 early this week.

He picked up his young companion Thursday morning and headed north, but not before the 14-year-old stole liquor and a large amount of Spanish coins from his parents. The younger boy is from Richfield.

The boys said they did not get along with their parents. They are being held for Washington County juvenile authorities.

Officers Named

LITTLE CHUTE — Richard Jahnke was named first vice commander and Steve Andrejeski second vice commander at a recent meeting of the Outagamie County Council of the American Legion.

Previously, the tires should be put back on the same side of the car. Once used, tires placed on a different side will wear in such a way that the studs could fall out.

Woman Awaits Sentencing for Burglary, Forgery

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered Friday morning for Mrs. Kenneth McCauley, 31, 212 E. South River St., after she pleaded guilty of burglary and three counts of forgery.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer continued the case to Oct. 24 for sentencing. Mrs. McCauley, charged following investigation by Appleton police, remains free on bond.

She burglarized the Bradley Nickels home, 1148 E. South River St., Aug. 18, and stole a checkbook from which she forged and issued three checks, totaling $35, at Doering's Super-Value Store.

Maximum sentence on the four felony counts is 40 years in prison.

Mrs. McCauley, who was bound over following a preliminary hearing Tuesday, has a court-appointed attorney.

$340 Pump Stolen

Appleton police were told Thursday that a $340 pump was taken from a construction site at Allis Chalmers. The pump was owned by Theodore Utschig & Sons, Inc., of Appleton.

The first four sessions are scheduled in Kimberly, the fifth at the Outagamie County Sheriff's office, the next five at Little Chute and the remaining 10 at Kaukauna.

Disease Kills 108 Elms in Kaukauna

KAUKAUNA — The city lost another 108 elm trees to Dutch Elm disease this year, according to Victor Luedtke, city forester and park superintendent.

Covering a 3-year period, a total of 313 elm trees have had to be removed and "the worst is yet to come," Luedtke said.

Basing his forecast on experiences in other cities to the south, Luedtke estimates Kaukauna may lose as many as 150 next year and an additional 50 to 60 the following year.

Of the 108 trees removed this year, 27 were street elms and the remainder were on private property. Total elm population of the city, excluding those on private property and city parks, is 1,055 or 313 less than three years ago, said Luedtke.

This Cowboy Is Tracking Down A News Story

JOHN T. WHEELER, outstanding reporter and writer for this newspaper and The Associated Press, gets his information first hand:

- Before writing about modern-day cattle drives, Wheeler rode dusty Western trails on horseback.
- For a direct account of the China-Soviet border clashes, he traveled to the remote Ussuri River in Siberia.
- He lived close to the war in Vietnam for four years—so close that he was wounded in one battle and decorated in another when he abandoned his typewriter to save a wounded soldier.
- Finding his way around the world is not difficult for Wheeler. He was a navigator-bombardier in the Strategic Air Command before joining The Associated Press.

Hollywood Palace Starts Sixth Season

BY TV SCOUT
8:30-9:30 Channel 11-9 — The Hollywood Palace, making its sixth seasonal debut, is the last regularly scheduled series to start the new year. It's fitting that Bing Crosby, the most familiar host for the Palace, should lead off the season introducing an all-star cast filled out with an acrobatic and rock 'n' roll act. Engelbert Humperdinck, who will soon have his own musical series on this network, is featured, singing "I'm a Better Man." Bobbie Gentry sings "You Made Me So Happy."

7:30-8 Channel 5 — Adam-12 has a feature that is the bane of many a cop's existence. They capture a pair of robbery suspects, handcuff them and prepare to take them in. Instead of getting help of the neighbors, there is only curiosity. When the prisoners recognize the unfriendly feeling, they start inciting a riot in the hope of escaping.

9-10 Channels 2-7 — Zina Bethune, presently starring in the soap opera Love of Life, and once the star of The Nurses, returns to that profession when she guests as a lady-in-white on Mannix. The episode has the detective returning to his home town where he tries to break an old feud with his father (Victor Jory) and help an old friend (Vera Miles) whose husband has been accused of murder.

8-10 Channel 5 — The networks continue to confound us with the paucity of quality of its non-rating week movie fare. A good example is "To Hell With Heroes," on Saturday Night at the Movies. Starring Rod Taylor and Claudia Cardinale, this story of narcotics smuggled by air flight between Algeria and France might have been produced in 1939.

6:30-7:30 Channel 2-7 — "The Honeymonsters" on The Jackie Gleason Show continue their travels when they take a Mexican vacation. Carol Lawrence is featured as a vivacious and equally dangerous lady bandit who takes a shine to Ralph, which Alice doesn't appreciate. Jesse White and Phil Leeds are featured as a couple of hip con men who kidnap Alice and Trixie.

6:30-7:30 Channel 5 — NBC certainly has opened its wallet to make sure The Andy Williams Show comes up with the best available guests, tonight's being Danny Thomas, Peggy Lee and Victor Borge. And there's also singer Ray Stevens.

8-8:30 Channels 2-7 — Arnold the pig, on Green Acres, may not be thoroughbred with the prestige of a poodle or pointer, but he is conceivably worth much more. Perhaps as much as $20 million. He may be the only living relative of the late Herman, the pig on which a huge pork empire was founded.

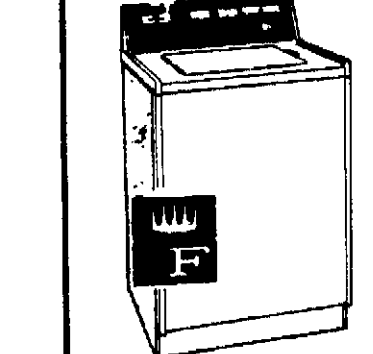

7:30-8 Channels 2-7 — Robbie is faced with one of life's bigger decisions on My Three Sons. Time has come for him to begin his permanent bread-winning career.

Papermakers Extend Win Streak to 6

Hand Stevens Point 14-0 Loss, Kimberly Intercepts Four Passes

STEVENS POINT — Kimberly's Papermakers extended their unbeaten streak to six games by downing a stubborn Stevens Point outfit, 14-0, in a non-conference clash Friday night.

It was the fourth shutout for the Kimberly defensive unit, which intercepted four Panther passes and recovered two fumbles to halt budding scoring opportunities.

Tim Vander Velden was an individual standout for the victors offensively as a fullback and defensively at his linebacking spot. The big senior scored both of Kimberly's touchdowns on runs of 17 and three yards and he also had one of the Kimberly plus a fumble recovery.

Gained 102 Yards

The majority of Kimberly's yardage came on the ground, as Vander Velden cracked the Panther line for 102 of the 111 yards the Papermakers picked up in 24 carries. In contrast, Stevens overland. The Panthers, members of the Wisconsin Valley Conference, had a statistical edge in the passing department with 77 yards gained to Kimberly's 24. A big chunk of the Panthers' aerial yards — 44 of them — were chalked up on the last play of the game, when reserve quarterback Matt Smith connected with Warren Wunderlich on the Kimberly 10-yard line.

Stevens Point's penetration to the Papermaker 10 was its deepest of the contest. In the first quarter, the Panthers had driven to the Papermakers' 32-yard line but were stopped on Vander Velden's interception of a Jeff Lundquist pass. Later in the second stanza, a march by the hosts to the Kimberly 27 ended abruptly when Ben Van Beek picked off a Panther pass at the 10-yard line.

Set up Score

Vander Velden's fumble recovery set up the first Kimberly score as the Papermakers marched 40 yards. Vander Velden had one run of 18 yards before racing down the sidelines 17 yards for the TD with 3:57 left in the first quarter. Vander Velden also tried to run for the conversion but a pincushion by quarterback Dan Blajeski fumbled and Point recovered.

Late in the third period, Kimberly took over on the Panther 41 after a short punt and drove to paydirt with 7:03 remaining in the ballgame. It took 11 plays with a key play a 17-yard screen pass from Blajeski to Vander Velden that put the ball on the 8-yard stripe. Stevens Point was off side on first down to give the Papermakers a first-and-goal at the four. Steve Van Hout gained one yard, and then Vander Velden punched the ball over for the insurance score. Blajeski then hit end Robin Ristau for the two-point conversion.

Good Punting

Kimberly punted Jim Gage kept Stevens Point in trouble much of the game with good kicks of 36, 43, 42, 40, 29, and 44 yards for a 39.0 average.

In addition to the interceptions by Vander Velden and Van Beek, Don Keller and Ristau also stole Panther passes. Ralph Kallies covered the other enemy fumble for the Papermakers.

Giants' Thomas Put On Active Roster

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants of the National Football League restored Aaron Thomas, veteran flanker, to their active roster Friday and put Frank Molden, defensive tackle, on the injured list.

Mike Cuellar, the Baltimore Oriole lefthander named to start the World Series against the New York Mets today has a ball with radio headset at Baltimore Stadium Friday. He and his teammates were in a morning workout in preparation for the Series. And, of course, this byplay was for the benefit of photographers. (AP Wirephoto)

What We Wanted Was $25,000

Some Players in Series Feel $15,000 Payoff Is Too Small

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer BALTIMORE (AP) — A $15,000 prize awaits the winners of the World Series between the Baltimore Orioles and New York Mets, but a number of players are unhappy about the payoff despite the fact that it represents the biggest pot of gold in baseball history.

"What we wanted was $25,000," said Baltimore outfielder Frank Robinson today before the opener of the Series, which was telecast nationally by NBC starting at 12 Noon CDT. "Our argument has been that we should get as much as the pro football players."

Old System

What the owners did go for was $15,000 for the winners and $10,000 for the losers, guaranteeing record payoffs in both cases. Under the old system, based on gate receipts, the largest winning share was the $12,794 collected by the Los Angeles Dodgers after they defeated the New York Yankee in 1963.

In addition, the $15,000 top prize a baseball player can earn in post-season action falls well short of what a pro football player can make by going all the way through post-season play and winning the Super Bowl.

Last year, for example, the New York Jets collected about $8,000 for winning the American Football League championship and $15,000 for beating Baltimore's Colts in the Super Bowl — a total of $23,000.

The owners basically collected money off the playoffs," said Robinson. "We got nothing. When we talk to the owners this year it will be our position that we want $25,000 — equal to what the football players get."

Both first baseman Ed Kranepool of the Mets and third baseman Brooks Robinson of the Orioles, player representatives of their respective teams, concurred with Frank Robinson's thinking, but declined to say what figure the players would be shooting for.

"You have to recognize that the guarantees in the Series are based on the anticipated payoff attendance," Kranepool said. "Now we know what that is and everyone is aware of the factor of what television pays for the playoffs."

"The owners know what's going on—they sold a big package to television. So I don't see any reason to fight. The payoff should go up. The minimums now are too low. There's no question about it."

One Dissenter

One dissenter was Kranepool's teammate, outfielder Ron Swoboda, who said more was involved in the World Series than money. "Nobody's thinking much about money I don't think," said Swoboda. "Getting here is the important thing. Everything is conditional on getting here. At this point, it gets to be a matter of pride. You prove something here."

The Mets will be trying to win basically with the same ingredients that carried them to a National League pennant—tight pitching and timely hitting by either of Manager Gil Hodges' two lineups—the one for right-handed pitchers and the one for lefties. Hodges used his right-handed batting order today against Baltimore starter Mike Cuellar with Swoboda in right field, Donn Clendenon at first, Al Weis at second and Ed Charles at third. Sitting down after their Atlanta triumphs, were Art Shamsky, Kranepool, Ken Boswell and Wayne Garrett.

In Sunday's second game, it figures to be Jerry Koosman for the Mets against Dave McNally. When the scene shifts to New York after Monday's day off, Gary Gentry is likely to open for the Mets Tuesday against Jim Palmer.

The fourth and fifth games also are scheduled for New York on Wednesday and Thursday, and if necessary, the sixth and seventh games will be played in Baltimore next Saturday and Sunday. All games will start at 1 p.m., except for the Sunday games at Baltimore, which begin at 2 p.m.

It took the Orioles just four games to whip the Dodgers the last time they were in a World Series in 1966.

It took the Mets eight years to get here.

Fifth-Rated Antigo Wins

Fondy Edges Manitowoc

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Madison La Follette and Denmark each won a crucial showdown with another ranked team in Friday nights Wisconsin high school football action.

La Follette, third in The Associated Press "big ten," remained unbeaten by dumping seventh-ranked Madison West 14-7, and Denmark, ninth in the "little ten," nipped eight-rated Reedsville 8-6.

West had lots of trouble holding on to the ball, fumbling eight times and losing it five. The last fumble gave La Follette the ball on the West six-yard line, and in no time at all La Follette had its second touchdown, a 14-0 lead, and the game.

West scored with 36 seconds left, but the outcome was already obvious. Without the rain, and the wet ball, it might have been West's night.

First Series

Denmark (5-1) went in for its touchdown on the first series of the game, after Marty Umentum had returned the opening kick-off 52 yards to Reedsville's 3 yard line.

Dave Kempfert ran the extra point over, and it was 8-0 until the third quarter, when Reedsville's attempt at running for a two-point conversion was stopped at the one-yard line.

Fond du Lac, fourth in The AP "big ten" and 6-0, edged Manitowoc 9-7 on a safety by Mark Kuther, who caught the Manty quarterback in the end zone.

Fond du Lac's touchdown was the first scored on Manitowoc's defense in nine games. Fifth-rated Antigo (6-0) roared from behind in the second half and smashed Merrill 44-12. Merrill led at the half 12-3.

Kim Fermanich of Antigo picked up 172 yards rushing in the second half and finished with 183 yards in 30 carries and 30 points.

Brookfield Central (6-0) eighth in the "big ten," flew past Port Washington 33-12 on the arm of quarterback Bill Carolo.

Eau Claire Memorial No. 2 in the "big ten," dumped Eau Claire North 45-6 on Thursday. Memorial is 6-0.

Durant, No. 1 in the "little ten," rolled to its 35th victory in a row, and sixth this season, by blasting Baldwin-Woodville 50-14.

Gale-Etrick, second in The AP "little ten," pulled out of a tie for the Coulee Conference lead with Onalaska by downing the Hilltoppers 20-0.

118 Yards Rushing
Bob Oines racked up 18 yards in 16 trips and scored on a 45-yard TD run to pace Etrick, now 6-0.

Chris Linzmeier of Auburndale threw scoring passes of 66, 27 and 42 yards and ran for two TD's as the third-ranked Apaches bombed Abbottsford 42-6.

Abbottsford was held to two yards of net offense in the second half as Auburndale notched its 17th straight victory.

Waupaca, 4-2 and sixth in the "little ten," was upset by Manawa 24-14, as Manawa intercepted two passes and recovered a fumble to keep the game out of reach.

Jeff Griffin led Manawa with 98 yards in 23 carries and 18 points. Manawa is now 5-0-1.

Broadhead, ranked seventh in the "little ten," was held to a scoreless tie by Black Hawk. The closest anyone got to the end zone was a Broadhead penetration to the Black Hawk 20-yard line in the second quarter.

Oconomowoc (6-0), eleventh among "big ten" vote-getters, continued to look good in a 48-8 rout of Beaver Dam. Pat Johnson and Mike Puestow each scored two touchdowns as Kohler (6-0) shut out Random Lake 33-0.

Held Scoreless
Chilton (5-0) continued to hold its opponents scoreless, dumping Valders 33-0. Bob Hansen scored on 70 and 56-yard runs and passes of 1 and 24 yards for Chilton, which has outscored its opposition 208-0 this season.

Kimberly (6-0) notched its fourth shutout of the season with a 14-0 victory over Stevens Point.

Tim Vander Velden was busy, scoring both touchdowns, rushing for 102 yards in 24 carries, intercepting one pass, recovering one fumble and catching the only two passes his quarterback threw.

Joe Bauer of Wauwatosa West (5-0) carried the ball 13 times for 192 yards as the Trojans downed Cudahy 34-0.

Milwaukee Riverside's Al Pitchford scored four touchdowns and picked up 222 yards on the ground as the Tigers topped Juneau 34-0.

Milwaukee Pius (5-0) continues to lead the Catholic Conference after defeating Cathedral 20-6. Jim Bachhuber picked up 90 yards rushing and scored twice to pace the Pope attack.

Fleming, Anderson Expected to Start

Packers Set For Clash With Lions

DETROIT (AP)—Marv Fleming is expected to be back at tight end when the Green Bay Packers take on the Detroit Lions here Sunday. But the Packers are expected to use Donny Anderson at flanker.

The opening whistle sounds at 1:15 p.m. (CDT). Fleming has missed the Packers' last two outings with a bruised shoulder. Boyd Dowler, in his absence, has been moved from a wide spot to tight end, with rookie John Spills and Anderson manning the wide receiver slot.

Anderson, a $600,000 draftee from Texas Tech four years ago, was moved to the flank with Travis Williams and Dave Hampton taking over as running backs besides fixture Jim Grabowski.

The Lions may see quarterback Bart Starr passing often to Anderson, who hasn't been the target of a single pass thus far this season.

Blaton Collier, coach of the Cleveland Browns, says of Anderson: "He's not a good pass catcher; he's a great one."

It may be the fate of the Lions to discover just how good the 6-foot-3, 220-pounder is.

Detroit fans will see Mel Farr and Nick Eddy start as running backs for the first time Sunday.

Eddy, drafted from Notre Dame, has been an instant favorite this season, after missing most of his first two because of injuries.

In his first game in Detroit this season, Eddy ripped off 26 yards in his only carry against the New York Giants, and caught a 14-yard pass for a touchdown.

Farr, a former UCLA star, was an instant success with the Lions and has been the mainstay of their running game for the last two seasons.

Detroit and Green Bay share the National Football League Central Division lead with Minnesota, all with 2-1 records.

Harry Caray's Pact Won't be Renewed

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Anheuser-Busch, Inc., announced Thursday it is not renewing the contract of Harry Caray, who has broadcast St. Louis Cardinals baseball games for 25 years.

Jack Buck was named to head up the broadcasting team for 1970, said August A. Busch Jr., owner of the club.

Wenzel Scores Twice

Kaukauna Deals New London 25-6 Mid-Eastern Loss

BY ROGER PITT

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEW LONDON — LeRoy Wenzel rambled for two touchdowns and spirited the Kaukauna Ghosts to a surprisingly easy 56-6 conquest of New London Friday under the Hatten Stadium lights.

Ken Roloff's Ghosts found the night to their liking as they mesmerized the Bulldog defense early in the game and blasted for three touchdowns in the first quarter and practically eliminated any New London hopes of catching up.

The Bulldogs had their opportunities to play catch-up in the second half, and even on the last series were in a drive, which had them capitalized on earlier chances could have been for the winning score.

Trap plays behind the blocking of guard Tom Giordana and Steve Dreier were the key to the early Kaukauna success as they moved the ball better than any team this year against the stingy Bulldog defense.

Prais Guards

Roloff called his pair of offensive guards "the best I've seen in a long time." Jeff Van Asten, a defensive end, was cited for outstanding play, while Roloff pointed to Wenzel, a stocky junior rushed 19 times for an even 100 yards, as the key offensive cog.

Kaukauna took over on its own 47 after New London was unable to move after the opening kickoff. Len Luedtke, New London's stellar defensive tackle, came off the field on the first defensive play after applying a crushing tackle on Paul Fassbender resulting in no gain.

Wenzel carried for a first down with a 14-yard pickup on the second play, which set the Kaukauna game plan in motion. Fassbender and Wenzel took turns battering off tackle, and in eight plays, moved into the end zone with Wenzel capping the drive on a punishing 12-yard gallop.

With 6:48 remaining in the first period, Fassbender split the uprights for a 7-0 Kaukauna lead.

The Bulldogs came back with a pair of first downs on pitches of 26 and 11 yards from Pete Meiklejohn to Bob McIlraith. The Ghosts' Dan Egan strided in front of McIlraith on the next pass attempt and returned 26 yards to the New London 32.

25-yard to Run

Wenzel scooted off tackle on the second play of the drive and ran 25 yards for his second touchdown of the contest. Fassbender ran for the 2-point conversion as the Ghosts went up, 15-0, with four minutes left in the opening stanza.

Kaukauna took possession at its 40 after a New London punt. Karl Mueller keyed the Ghosts' next as on third down he teamed with Wenzel on a screen pass for 43 yards and a first down at the New London 11. Three plays later, Mueller scored on a 4-yard rollout and Wenzel made the score 23-0 with a run for the PAT with 49 seconds left.

Dave Deering set up the final Kaukauna points blocked, and Van Asten pinned down a Bulldog player who recovered the ball for a 2-point safety with 3:10 left in the first half.

New London dominated the second half in a complete reversal of the game. However, the Bulldogs failed on several scoring threats as drives were stopped at the Kaukauna 13 and 14 yard lines in the third quarter.

Slosarek Scores

Taking over at the Ghost 45 after a short punt, the Bulldogs drove in nine plays for their lone touchdown. Sophomore Robbie Slosarek covered the final six yards behind the right side of the New London line for the score with 5:13 left to be played. A run for the PAT failed.

Slosarek's running, 60 yards in 14 carries, was a bright spot as the Bulldogs battered backfield has been slowed by injury.

Mohammed Ali To Fight in Mississippi

Ali Has Hankering To Fight Fraser In Bout Dec. 15

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Former heavyweight champion Mohammed Ali, still hankering for a fight with Joe Frazier, is going to put on the gloves again against an as yet unnamed opponent.

Ali, also known as Cassius Clay, claimed at a Friday news conference here he has been granted a license to fight Dec. 15 in Mississippi.

"Frazier said he would fight me if I got a license," Ali said after he received the Mississippi license. "Well, bring on Frazier because I've got a license."

Frazier is recognized as the heavyweight champion in six states.

When asked whether he believes the public still recognizes him as the heavyweight champion, Ali said, "I'm undefeated. That's all I'm going to say."

Received License
Ali received the Mississippi license from Major Coxson, who refused to identify the authority for whom or which he was acting. Coxson later was identified as a wealthy Philadelphia auto dealer.

On a recent visit to Philadelphia, Mayor Charles Evers of Fayette, Miss., said negotiations were under way for Ali to do a boxing benefit for his city.

Ali said the license was issued by Frank Chambers, Mississippi commissioner of sports. He said the fight would be held in the Jackson, Miss., Coliseum with a seating capacity of 12,000. He said he would do most of his training in Jackson, the capital of Mississippi.

Ali was barred from boxing after he refused Army induction two years ago. He has appealed his conviction to a five-year jail sentence and a $10,000 fine.

Bulls Down Royals, 117-98 in Exhibition

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — The Chicago Bulls, shutting out the great Oscar Robertson, downed the Cincinnati Royals 117-98 Friday night in a National Basketball Association exhibition game.

Clem Haskins scored 21 points and Bob Love 15 to lead the Bulls, while Tom Van Arsdale scored 19 and Fred Foster 18 for the losers.

Chicago's defense was superb, holding the Royals to a record-low 98 points. Oscar Robertson, who led the Royals in scoring last season, was held to 15 points and 10 rebounds.

Chicago's offense was equally effective, with Haskins and Love combining for 36 points. The Bulls' defense was superb, holding the Royals to a record-low 98 points.

Everts Scores 3 TDs

Polar Bears Take Sole Little '9' Lead

HORTONVILLE — For the first time in 13 seasons the Hortonville Polar Bears are alone atop the Little Nine Conference standings as a result of Friday night's 37-0 victory coupled with Denmark's win over previously unbeaten Reedsville, 8-6.

Hortonville now has a 6-0 record to lead the league and it was the fourth straight shutout victory for the Polar Bears who have allowed only 14 points in the six games.

Mark Everts again was the individual standout for Hortonville as he scored three touchdowns, intercepted two passes and gained 98 yards rushing in 14 carries.

Hortonville rushed for 279 yards and gained another 60 passing while Omro was limited to 48 yards on the ground and another 48 in the air on three completions in 17 attempts. The Polar Bears intercepted four of the Foxes passes and recovered one fumble.

Narrow 6-0 Lead

Hortonville had a narrow 6-0 lead after the first half and then rolled up 16 in the third period and 15 in the fourth.

Everts scored the first TD when he intercepted a pass and returned to the Omro 23. Four running plays put the ball on the three and Everts carried it over.

In the third period Fran Van Kamp went 10 yards for a touchdown, Everts plunged over from the two for another and Van Kamp ran both extra points over. The fourth quarter saw Hortonville cap an 83-yard drive with Everts scoring from the two and late in the game John Ziegler added the final TD on a 26-yard run. Van Kamp ran another point over and John Kruehl added one from placement.

Shiocton '11' Rolls to 31-8 Little Nine Win

Chiefs Trail at Half, Break Game Open With 4 TDs

SHIOCTON — The Shiocton High School Chiefs got off to an early start in a 31-8 football rout over Wrightstown as running back Dave Gast dashed 10 yards into the end zone, ending a 55-yard march that started with the opening kickoff Friday night.

Fresh Grant Collar's PAT kick gave the Chiefs a 7-point lead in the first quarter.

Tiger back Ken Gilson ran four yards for the only Wrightstown touchdown of the game in the second quarter, following it with a running conversion that gave Wrightstown a 1-point lead.

The Wrightstown machine never got into high gear, however, and Shiocton gridmen recaptured the upper hand as defender Wayne Beyer stole a Tiger pass and ran to a 6-yard tally later in the same period.

Quarterback Dick Clausen played the lead as Shiocton ran away with the show in the second half. The second of two Chief interceptions, this one courtesy of Ricq Puffe, set up the Shiocton offense in handy position for Clausen's 35-yard sprint to the end zone.

The Chief quarterback was also instrumental in the two fourth quarter tallies, connecting first on a 56-yard scoring pass to Jim Blom and later winding up Shiocton scoring with another 4-yard dash to paydirt.

Tigers Unscored On

Chilton Wins, 33 to 0 To Remain Unbeaten

CHILTON — Chilton smashed Valdres, 33-0, in an Eastern Wisconsin football game Friday night as Bob Hansen scored four touchdowns, two running and two on passes, and also intercepted two Viking passes.

On the first set of downs in the game the Tigers marched 62 yards as Jeff Thompson tossed an 11-yard touchdown pass to Hansen. Thompson kicked the extra point. Half way through the first quarter the Tigers struck again when Hansen ran around right end for seven yards to cap a 60-yard drive. Thompson booted the extra point.

Early in the second quarter Valdres tried a 40-yard field goal which fell short. Chilton took over on their seven-yard line where Thompson connected with Capser for 93 yards on a touchdown pass on the first play.

Hansen charged 56 yards around left end to a touchdown to end a 70-yard drive in the third period, for the Tigers. Thompson kicked for the extra point. The last score for the Tigers came in the fourth quarter as Thompson hit Hansen for a 24-yard touchdown pass. The touchdown ended a 89-yard drive for the Tigers.

Chilton is now 2-0 in conference play and 5-0 overall. The Tigers have not been scored on in this season. Hansen was the leading rusher with 116 yards in eight carries. Chilton passed for 158 yards on four completions out of eight attempts and rushed for 231 yards.

The Vikings deepest penetration was to the Chilton 25-yard line in the third quarter. Valdres is now 1-1 in conference play. The Vikings attempted 18 passes, completed eight, and had four intercepted for 70 yards and rushed for 87 yards.

Jack Picks Vikings

Lions to Edge Bays, Declares AP's Hand

By JACK HAND

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Mets and Orioles have chased the Colts into a Monday night game and moved the Jets' game to Cincinnati so please excuse if we wind up with Tom Seaver throwing touchdown passes and John Unitas hitting home runs.

In the confusion of last week-end, the old Hand picker wound up with 9-2 for the day missing out on the Giants and Browns. Let's try it again. The games are spread from Saturday to Monday so watch the dates. All games Sunday unless otherwise noted:

NFL
Minnesota 23, Chicago 17 — Vikings are roughing up everybody with that tough front four but they blew two to Chicago last year and this is Bears' home opener after seeing plenty of trouble on the road. Another one of those rugged defensive rumbles with field goals probably deciding.

New York 23, Pittsburgh 21 — Giants are tough to chart. Up one week down the next. They're coming off an up week so reaction may set in. Steelers' vulnerable to the bomb and Fran Tarkenton can light the fuse. Injury to Dick Shiner may bring in Kent Nix as Steeler quarterback. Loss to Steelers in Sept. 11 exhibition, 17-13, cost Allie Sherman his job.

Washington 24, St. Louis 21 — Cards lead league in smearing the passer but Sonny Jurgensen is tough to catch. Skins' offense has more punch. First home game for Vince Lombardi's Redskins after 1-1-1 record on road.

Cleveland 28, New Orleans 17 — Lions ambushed Browns last week but Saints never have beaten Cleveland. With Leroy Kelly back in action and Ron Johnson ripping up the sod, Browns should roll on the ground.

Dallas 24, Atlanta 10 — Falcons gave Colts a good fight last week but those Cowboys are beginning to click on all cylinders with Craig Morton at the controls and Calvin Hill leading the rushers.

Detroit 17, Green Bay 14 — A big one in the Central Division where Lions are showing their muscle after losing opener to Pittsburgh. Lions will pressure Bart Starr but will find Packer defense tough to crack. Another that could be won by a field goal.

Los Angeles 23, San Francisco 14 — Rams won and tied in 1968 games with 49ers and also took Sept. 13 exhibition at Anaheim, 31-28. This always a blood game and could be bitter with 49ers' winless in three starts playing before home folks.

Baltimore 31, Philadelphia 21 (Monday night) — Game switched to Monday night because of World Series. Eagles showing good attack but can't stop anybody. Colts' defense shoddy so far. John Unitas should make the difference.

AFL
Buffalo 21, Boston 10 (tonight) — Bills have won only one and Pats are 0-4. Something has to give. O.J. Simpson could run wild against Boston defense that has given up 16 touchdowns. However, Pats won both games in 1968.

New York 27, Cincinnati 21 (tonight) — Bengals ran into first defeat last week against San Diego and will find Jet's defense even tougher to crack. Greg Cook's return a lift for Cincy but Joe Namath gets protection and Cook doesn't. Game transferred from New York due to World Series.

San Diego 24, Miami 21 (tonight) — Brad Hubbard and Dick Pott form impressive Charger rushing combo. Bob Griese can find holes in San Diego's secondary in a game that could be closer than expected.

Kansas City 20, Houston 17 — Chiefs finally open at home against rough Oiler defense which will test Mike Livingston. Hank Stram has more offense and Jan Stenerud to kick against Roy Gerela.

Oakland 24, Denver 21 — Something still missing in Raiders despite 3-0-1 record for four starts. Broncos 13 touchdowns top the league but leaky defense kills them. Raiders won both games last year, 43-7 and 33-27 and owns 13-4-1 edge in series.

Kimberly Tips Seymour In Cross Country Run

SEYMOUR — Kimberly's cross country team edged Seymour, 25-32, in a dual meet here Thursday.

Bill Bonzelet gave the Paper-makers an individual first place with a time of 11:09, one second faster than runnerup Tom Hodkiewicz of the host school.

Trailing Bonzelet and Hodkiewicz to the finish where Tony Van Belkom (K), Dale Marsh (S), Bill Everson (S), Steve Brockman (K), Mike Grones (K), Don Bruex (K), and Dan Vanden Heuvel (K).

VALLEY

Indians Win As Buchholtz Gets Two TDs

Weyauwega Tips Marion, 20 to 14, In Homecoming Tilt

WEYAUWEGA — Doug Buchholtz scored two touchdowns and led the Weyauwega Indians in rushing with 96 yards, as the Indians beat the Mustangs of Marion, 20-14, in Weyauwega's Friday night homecoming game.

Weyauwega, with a record of 1-2 in the Central Wisconsin Conference, now leads 0-3 Marion by one game.

The Mustangs appeared to be on a scoring drive in the second quarter as they drove to the Weyauwega 7-yard line. However, they were assessed 15 yards on a penalty and a fourth down situation forced them into a field goal attempt. The kick was off the mark.

Two plays later the Indians fumbled and the Mustangs took possession. Gary Beyersdorf, who led Marion in rushing with 137 yards on 22 carries, took the ball in from the five for the TD and Mike Mattes kicked the extra point. The other Mustang score was equally as irregular. When the Indians kicked off after their first touchdown, Mike Mattes returned the ball 80 yards for a touchdown. He also kicked the extra point.

Officials said David Wenzel, 16, of Florence High School was running when he collapsed with a heart seizure. He was not engaged in contact work, a physician said.

The incident led to postponement today of a Florence game against Crandon High. Florence is on the Wisconsin border near Iron Mountain, Mich.

Raymond Steinmuller, 16, died Wednesday after swimming the length of a pool at Horlick High School in Racine. A coroner attributed death to heart failure.

PAC Sets Meeting For Tuesday Night

The Patriot Athletic Club will meet in the Appleton East Commons at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. The program will feature coaches of the fall sports.

Ferg, Griffin Star

Waupaca Upset By Wolves, 24-14

MANAWA — Quarterback point conversion was made by Bob Ferg and halfback Jerry Griffin also.

In the second quarter Waupaca came back to score its first TD when Lloyd Marchiel sprinted three yards for the touchdown.

During the third period, Manawa's Ferg ran 38 yards for a touchdown. The Comets then retaliated with another TD as Riddle found Doug Peterson for a 25-yard touchdown play.

The outstanding rushers of the game were Ferg with 106 yards in 18 carries, Griffin 98 yards in 18 carries, and Randy Brown who had 57 yards in 12 carries. For Waupaca, the leading rushers were Riddle who had 42 yards in 11 carries and Carl Trinnrud, 41 yards in 11 carries.

Manawa Coach Bill Lieberman cited his fine defensive line and especially linebacker Bill Ernst.

Shiner Will Start In Steeler Lineup

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers said Friday quarterback Dick Shiner will be in the starting lineup for Sunday's game with the New York Giants at Yankee Stadium.

Shiner injured his left hand in the Steelers' 27-14 loss to the St. Louis Cardinals last Sunday. A team spokesman said, however, that the right-handed quarterback has worked out with the squad all week and has not been hampered by the injury.

Young Mother Can't Love Her Daughter

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Two years ago I started to go with Wayne. It wasn't love at first sight (I don't believe there is such a thing), but I grew to love him one day at a time. Last August I learned I was pregnant. We were married right away.

Landers

Wayne is kind and gentle — the perfect husband I was the happiest girl in the world until the baby came. When I first saw little Lorna I was frightened by my indifference. Wayne was thrilled. I felt nothing. It was as if a stranger had invaded my life. I try to love Lorna but I can't. When she cries I go to pieces. I scream at her to shut up. I hoister things like, "I wish you had never been born." I spank her almost every day for no good reason. I resent it when I have to change her diaper or feed her. I hate to wash and iron her things.

What is wrong with me that I cannot love this child? I am worried sick that one day I will hurt her — or worse. I worry, too, that Wayne will leave me and take Lorna because I am such a terrible mother.

Can you help me, Ann? I'm only 16 and my life should be ahead of me. Instead I am frightened and miserable — South Carolina

DEAR ANN LANDERS: When my brother was 19, he told my mother off and left home. They never spoke after that. My older sister and my mother were never close. I had a so-so relationship with my mother — no warmth between us but no open battles either.

I was a bride when Dad died. My mother came to visit us and she stayed for twenty years. She sarcastically referred to herself as my "housekeeper" which was not exactly accurate. I did a lot of the work myself.

Two weeks ago my mother went to Europe to visit her family. A friend told me that before mother left the country she made a will leaving everything to my sister's three children. She left nothing to me, my brother or my children.

My brother says he did not expect anything but he insists that I should have been compensated for 20 years of free room and board. The estate cannot be very large but I am more interested in having my name cleared than in getting any money. Can I sue? — Omitted

HINTS FROM Heloise

BY HELOISE

Dear Heloise:

My smart daughter has two small children and hit on the idea of a Dutch door between the kitchen and dining room. She used only the lower half of the door and put a shelf on the top of it.

This is great for keeping the kiddies out, yet she can see everything they are doing. The lock is on the knob on the kitchen side, so it can be locked and an adult can reach over and unlock it, but the children can't.

She then mounted her paper towel holder on the kitchen side of the door and the towels are right there.

Dear Heloise:

Do not discard rinds of grapefruit, lemons or oranges. Grate the rinds and place them in a tightly covered glass jar and store in the refrigerator.

Makes excellent flavoring for cakes, frosting and such. Also, sprinkle the orange rind over chicken and the grated lemon rind over fish. Magnifico! — Mrs. L.

Dear Heloise:

I raked our lawn today and guess what I did to hold my plastic leaf bag open?

I shook it out, then clipped one side to our chain-link fence with two clip clothespins.

Dear Heloise:

I bought tiny zippers and hand-sewed one on the top of the left outside pocket of each of my children's coats and jackets (my kiddies are all right-handed).

Now they don't lose their lunch money or bus tokens! — Thanks for your homey column which has brought me friendship from people I have never met.

I love them all and you. — Tired Mommy

To Your Good Health Pregnant Women May Crave Exotic Foods

BY GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr Thosteson Please enlighten me as to why I have an appetite for cornstarch while pregnant. I craved and ate lumpy laundry starch daily during each pregnancy (three). After each baby was born I refrained.

Dr. Thosteson

Each time I told my doctors that I was eating starch and they advised me against it but I never found out what harm it could do, except overweight.

Does laundry starch have the same effect on the system as regular food starches?

Could there be an ingredient that my system needs but I am not getting through normal diet? — Mrs G M C

Medical authorities — doctors, that is — know an awful lot. They've been accumulating knowledge since Hippocrates, and before.

But I'll tell you a secret. There's an awful lot we don't know.

Somebody invented a word for eating unusual things. The word is "pica" (peek-un). A common example is the child who eats dirt. Probably an even commoner example is the pregnant woman who develops a taste for something or other. Some crave watermelon or strawberries in winter, or often other things. Quite a few crave ordinary starch. Some, and this is especially true in the South, eat among other pregnant women. So perhaps, if such women need more iron, they instinctively seek something to eat — but instinct doesn't tell them what to eat. So they settle for something handy or something they've heard about.

Actually both concentrated starch and clay seem, one way or another, to interfere with absorption of iron. If so, such women make their problem worse instead of better.

Until a better answer comes along, I'll tell you what to do. If a woman with "pica," or an unexplained yen for starch or clay, tells me so, I promptly call for a blood test to see if she is low in iron.

If so, I start giving iron supplements. I don't deliver any stern lectures about not eating starch or clay (Except that, if the woman is overweight, I try to wean her away from the laundry starch.) But I hope that the extra iron will satisfy her urge to nibble starch, and I am under the impression that this sometimes works out.

The calories in laundry starch are the same as calories in any other form of starch. They're starch. And fattening.

It's been studied. One research project gave at least a hint that anemia (lack of iron) might be related in some way.

A severe lack of iron was about twice as common among starch-eaters (and clay-eaters) as

Froehlich Blames Students

Day of Pigs

MADISON (AP) — Harold V. Froehlich, speaker of the state assembly, says University of Wisconsin students deserve most of the blame for damage caused Sept. 29 during a sit-in by about 2,000 welfare demonstrators.

"The demonstration," Froehlich said Friday, "was a protest against the so-called cuts by the legislature of welfare payments. Yet the number of the welfare recipients in the crowd was few in comparison with the number of students from the university."

"For them," he continued, "it was a new opportunity to participate in a civil disturbance regardless of the cause."

The role of UW students in antiwar and civil rights demonstrations around Capitol Square has kept legislators angry for many months.

Dismayed by Rubbish
Froehlich, in his weekly "newsletter," said he was dismayed by the rubbish left behind in the Assembly chambers by demonstrators, including "potato chips, crackers, half-eaten sausages and other food."

"In the final analysis, the demonstrators had made gigantic pignen of the state Assembly chamber, and in doing so, had clearly shown who the 'pigs' really were," he said.

The Assembly invasion, which had dwindled to a few hundred participants by the time police and National Guardsmen arrived, was led by the Rev. James E. Groppi.

Assemblymen used an 1848 contempt statute to jail Groppi. A motion challenging the Assembly's use of the law without providing bail or a hearing was taken under advisement Friday by the Wisconsin Supreme Court.

Postpones Ruling
U.S. District Judge James Doyle, having received a similar motion, told Groppi's attorneys Friday he was postponing a ruling.

Capitol Square welfare demonstrations have kept the Assembly from working on welfare and antipoverty bills which the protesters support. With Groppi still in jail, backers said they plan a major rally Sunday.

Wausau Man Fined for Giving Minors Liquor

WAUPACA — Ronald Wolf, 22, route 2, Wausau, pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a minor in Waupaca County Court Branch 2 Friday and was ordered to pay a $150 fine, plus cost, or spend 60 days in jail.

On Monday he stopped at a Marion drive-in and poured Brandy into the root beers of a 13 and 16-year-old boy.

Wolf was remanded to the county jail and a check disclosed that he is absent without leave from Ft. Riley, Kan. and has been absent for the past four months. He is being held for the military authorities.

86,000 Persons Get USDA Food In Wisconsin

Social to The Post-Crescent
CHICAGO — More than 86,000 low-income persons in Wisconsin received food assistance from the U. S. Department of Agriculture during August.

The total included 44,597 persons in 35 food stamp program areas, which includes Calumet County, and 41,858 in 51 commodity distribution program projects. Calumet County joined the food stamp program in August.

Food Stamp participants received nearly $798,000 worth of coupons during the month, of which almost $251,000 were bonus coupons. The average bonus was $5.63 per person.

In the commodity program, nearly 1.1 million pounds of food were distributed at an approximate retail value of $424,000. This averaged $10.12 per person.

The food stamp program enables low-income families to buy more food by exchanging the amount of money they normally spend on food for coupons with greater value than they paid. The coupons are spent like cash at authorized retail food outlets.

Larry Markman Is Bulldog of Week; Four Other Players Honored

NEW LONDON — Five players shared honors for their performance in a 20-14, losing cause last week at Clintonville.

Larry Markman, tight end and linebacker, was designated Bulldog of the Week for his combined performance at the two positions.

For the third time this season, Len Luedtke, a 195-pound junior tackle, was named offensive lineman, while John Sanders, middle guard, was named defensive lineman for the fourth consecutive week.

Quarterback Pete Meiklejohn was designated offensive back and Bob Tews, a linebacker, was named defensive back.

Woman's High Pin Score Honored by Wittenberg League

WITTENBERG — Joyce Schmidt was honored Monday night for a 255 game she bowled last year in league play.

She was presented an award that commemorates the 50th anniversary of the Wisconsin Woman's Bowling Association. The presentation was made by Julie Sibley, league secretary.

Boy Scouts of Troop 10 at Chilton recently worked on their historic trails award by cleaning the grounds around the Historic Society south of the city. The project consisted of pruning trees, painting out building, grubbing weeds from a stone wall and hauling limbs and weeds from the property. About 26 boys participated in the project. (Connors Photos)

'New' Youth Given Burden Of Saving U.S. Resources

The nation's youth and their new values — shying from materialistic gain — may be the only hope for saving the lakes and streams, the air and other natural resources from being bulldozed over by adults' desire for progress and profit.

This was the assessment Thursday by Dr. Jacob Shapiro, Oshkosh State University ecologist who disclaimed his being an expert on human behavior but offered his own views "from reading."

Shapiro warned businessmen and professional people at the first of three OSU division of extended services' Executive Luncheons that man is a serious threat to all aspects of his environment.

He said the total environment must be looked at and a balance planned before any individual part of it, as surface water, can be saved. Man needs his environment, he added.

He said that adults have accepted companies' pleas that they are doing all they can afford to fight pollution. Only today's women are seriously concerned, he added, noting men still are "hard-headed, practical realists."

Don't Practice

The very values that adults instilled in their offspring — but often don't practice themselves — are what may make today's youth clamp down on the disregard for the nation's natural resources, Shapiro said.

"Youth don't have the hangup with security, money and the need to accumulate material gains," he said.

He said they can look at polluted water — and regardless what an industry pleads about profit — stand firm on demands it clean up its discharges into the water.

He admitted the water may have been more polluted years ago but adults — teenagers at that time — were more willing to accept it because the Depression engrained the need for progress and raising the standard of living.

Before questioning brought up youth's role, Shapiro delved into the need for a more total and organized approach to solving the environmental pollution problem to provide a "rational, self-sustaining balance" of nature.

He said that history shows efforts to combat one imbalance always creates other imbalances. For example, he said, one island's people brought mongooses to their soil to keep down the rat population, and the mongooses multiplied, threatening the livestock and crops.

Computer Analysis

Shapiro, a leader in area efforts to meet environmental needs, suggested a computer analysis of the total environment, which is being tried in Los Angeles.

He also said the public, particularly the seven of 10 persons

Two Injured On U.S. 41 In Accident

OSHKOSH — Two persons were injured when the autos in which they were riding collided on U.S. 41 near its intersection with Storbe Island Road north of Neenah about 7:51 p.m. Friday.

Daniel L. Hahn, 17, 1500 Palisades Drive, Appleton, sustained nose and cheek injuries.

Lester E. Schumacher, 52, Winnebago, Ill., injured his left knee. Both were advised to see a physician for treatment.

Hahn's auto collided with another being driven by Albert R. Peterson, 76, Pecatonica, Ill. The Peterson auto.

Winnebago County police estimated damages at $1,000 to the front of Schumacher's auto and $900 to the right rear of the car being driven by Hahn.

Valley Campus Offers Classes In Marketing Management

Two University Extension Department of Commerce courses are scheduled to begin next week at the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Campus.

"Marketing for Non-Marketing Executives," an executive seminar, will begin Oct. 14 and will meet in two more all-day sessions on consecutive Tuesdays, Oct. 21 and 28.

This seminar is based on the premise that no executive has escaped the effects of marketing on his job.

Small discussion groups will be led by outstanding business and education leaders. All sessions will be conducted in workshop form.

Richard A. Collins, assistant professor of marketing at State University Whitewater and Elmer A. Otte, vice-president and manager of The Biddle Company's Appleton office will be discussion leaders.

The second course is a management institute on "How to Conduct a Meeting." It will begin at 7 p.m. Oct. 14 at the Fox Valley Campus. Future meetings will be two-hour sessions on Oct. 21, 28 and Nov. 4 and 11.

Kenneth F. Anderson, Neenah, a UWBG faculty member, will be instructor. Anderson has geared the institute to the needs of those who hold office, are officers-elect or managers who must conduct a meeting. Parliamentary procedures to keep on the subject, avoid rambling and guide the discussions will be discussed and illustrated.

More detailed information and enrollment procedures are available from the University Extension Office, Fox Valley Campus, Midway Road, Menasha.

living in the cities, receive little or no education on conservation. He called for diversity in developments instead of uniformity, which is dangerous. This prevents an area from being wiped out by disease as a large section of northern Wisconsin jack pines were about 10 years after they were planted in the 1890s, he said.

Relating this to cities, he called for using overhead trees along streets, underground power lines, walking malls along with drive-up shopping centers and apartments with trees and gardens.

He admitted this may not be the most efficient way, but "diversity must be one of our goals."

Shapiro said overpopulation is one problem that must be conquered but noted there were divergent views among experts on this. Some slummers feel that the government is trying to control their kind when birth control clinics are set up in their areas, he said.

He offered a five-point program for attacking the environmental problems — inventorying resources, including bird and animal species; reviewing past attempts; learning to understand natural processes, as floods; learning of limiting factors, as rainfall and no-frost days, and determining relative values, as the worth of wildlife areas versus progress and growth.

The second luncheon will be a talk and film on flying saucers Nov. 13 and the last on student radicalism or Dec. 11.

Shaving Lotion Just Won't Pay For Attorney

A youth appearing in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Friday on a felony charge was more than willing to furnish court officials with needed information during an indigency hearing.

Dist. Atty. James R. Long had just finished extensively questioning the youth about his assets and liabilities if he could afford his own attorney or if one would have to be appointed at county expense.

Questioning revealed the youth had not one penny on his person, possessed $5 worth of clothing, and was owed about $20 by an employer. He owed others about $100.

After Long finished his questioning, Judge Nick F. Schaefer asked the standard question, "Is there any other property you might have that you haven't been asked about?"

"Well, I've got a nearly empty bottle of after shave lotion," the defendant replied.

Schaefer appointed an attorney.

Sole Singers To Appear at Stockbridge

CCD Sponsors Two-Hour Program At the High School

STOCKBRIDGE — The first appearance in this area of The Sole Singers, a group of teenagers from the Fox Valley area, is being sponsored Nov. 2 by the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine (CCD) classes at St. Mary Catholic parish.

The 53-voice singing group will appear in the high school gym. This is their only scheduled appearance in Calumet County.

Originally organized to sing folk masses at Combined Locks Catholic Church, the group has now expanded to include teenagers from all over the Fox Valley. They sing early folk music, songs of the 1950's and what has been termed "easy-going, jolly and wholesomely packaged" songs.

Chairmen of the appearance here are Richard Thiel, Kurt Bushman and Leo Van Hoorn. George Ecker Jr., is serving as general chairman.

Committee chairmen are Marvin Thiel and Bill Van Hoorn, gym; Thiel, Bushman and Van Hoorn, tickets; Dan Goesser, Tony Hemauer, James Mayer, Lee Schumacher, Marvin Thiel, William Van Hoorn, Tom Baun, Eugene Hemauer and Robert Comerford, ticket sales.

Advance tickets for the two-hour performance, geared to an audience of all ages, are available from all CCD members.

Folk Concert To Give Help To Appalachia

A folk concert to help the people of Appalachia has been scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Appleton High School-West auditorium.

Fourteen students from West and East initiated the concert for Project Concern, a medical relief program working with the deprived of the world, after the project's director, Dr. James Turpin, spoke to the youths.

"Because All Men are Brothers" is the theme of Tuesday's program. Karen Lovdahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lovdahl, 1710 N. Oneida St., is the chairman. Miss Elizabeth Plowright is the faculty adviser.

The concert is open to the public and the admission fee is 75 cents.

Project Concern operates clinics in Vietnam, Hong Kong, Tijuana and Appalachia. All are staffed by volunteers from many countries.

The 14 local youths have specified that profits from the concert will go to aid the Appalachia clinics.

WSCS Plans Fellowship Fair At Wittenberg

The 1:30 p.m. event will feature a white elephant table, a new goods and gift department for early Christmas shopping, grab bags, country store and a tea.

Mrs. Rudy Hanson and Mrs. Ray Mickleson will be in charge of new goods and gifts; Mrs. Oliver Kuckendorf and Mrs. Florence Coyle, white elephant sale; Mary Burke, grab bags; Mrs. Grover Meisner and Mrs. Henry Cappel, country store, and Mrs. Ernest Moody and Mrs. Roland Rotham, tea table.

Three of Chilton's leading industries will compete to see which is able to fill its United Fund campaign quota first. Thermometers will be placed in each plant registering the total amount collected each day. Making the challenge and handing out the thermometers is

Conservation Cases Rise at Waupaca With Hunting Season

WAUPACA — The hunting season is on and the fishing season is dwindling, which became obvious in the 26 conservation cases which came before Judge Nathan Wiesch this week in Waupaca County Court Branch 2.

Fines ranging from $25 to $13 plus court costs, were forfeited on such charges as shooting from a car, shining deer while in possession of a bow and arrow, carrying loaded gun in a motorboat, carrying a strung bow in a car and hunting ducks in open water.

"If you think the water-fowl and the deer are in danger—better think about yourself," cautions a warden. "We had to bring in a couple of hunters for shooting less than 200 feet from County Trunk Q and some others for shooting after hours."

Three Unions Found Guilty Of Violation

Three Fox Valley unions have been found guilty by a National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) trial examiner of violating a secondary boycott law.

The examiner issued his decision this week, calling for Teamsters Local 563, Operating Engineers Local 139 and the Plumbers & Steamfitters Local 458 to stop such practices.

The charge was filed by Haldon Corp., Oshkosh, and W. C. Mayo, an Appleton contractor, who ordered materials from Oshkosh Ready Mix, Oshkosh. The materials were delivered last December by Courtney & Plummer, Inc., Appleton.

The charge alleges union officials attempted to interfere with Mayo and Haldon employees on the job site during the delivery. Oshkosh Ready Mix and Courtney were being struck at that time by the unions.

The decision could be appealed by the unions.

Other Planners Join In Housing Meeting

Three major Fox Valley-based part of the group sponsoring the regional planning organizations program.

Co-sponsors now will be Northeastern, the Fox Valley Council of Governments (COG) and the Brown County Regional Planning Commission, and several other councils of government and planning agencies from this part of the state have been invited.

The Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission earlier announced it alone was sponsoring the one-day session but other planning agencies reportedly balked at not being

A key participant in the conference, the University of Wisconsin Extension's engineering division department, also there were a joint sponsorship. bailed at participating unless there were a joint sponsorship.

Dwight Zeck, department specialist, said he originally understood it was a joint sponsorship and wrote Gordon A. Bubolz, Northeastern chairman, that his department preferred the joint arrangement.

He said he was surprised when Northeastern released a story earlier that it was the sponsor.

Bubolz said Friday that several agencies, including the new COGs at Shawano and Waupaca, were being invited.

Others invited are counties having full-time planning agencies.

Federal Speaker

Bubolz said he hopes to have a Washington Federal Housing Administration (FHA) official as the main speaker. Lawrence Katz, state FHA director, Milwaukee, is among the speakers.

Other agencies to be represented will be the State Department of Local Affairs and Development, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Extension's Institute of Governmental Affairs.

County Revenue Estimated At $5.3 Million for 1970

Finance Committee Completes Income Proposals Quickly, Budget Now Goes to Board

After four days of attempting to pare spending requests, it only took the Outagamie County Board's finance committee four hours to breeze through the revenue side of the proposed 1970 county budget.

If they thought it was difficult to find areas to cut in expenses, they found it even more difficult to find ways to increase revenue estimates.

In fact, the net result was a decrease of $93,835 in estimated revenues for next year over earlier estimates.

Total proposed revenues now stand at $5,328,266. Budgeted revenues for 1969 totaled $5,150,432. This figure, however, includes a transfer of $450,000 from the general fund. The amount to be transferred, if any, for 1970 has not yet been determined.

Legal Snag May Delay Housing Start

Groundbreaking for Project for Elderly Hinges on Ordinance

A legal snag may prevent the recently announced Dec. 1 groundbreaking date for the project for Appleton's 154-unit low-rent housing project for the elderly.

The city council adopted a "cooperation agreement" with the Appleton Housing Authority last year, agreeing to grant variances and zoning changes needed to carry out the project. But the building is being constructed under a "turn-key" development system under which the developers, Hutter Construction Co., Fond du Lac, are legally the owners of the project until they finish and turn it over to the housing authority.

Special Ordinance
When the developers applied this week for a building permit, a Hutter representative pointed out the need for a special ordinance extending the cooperation agreement with the housing authority to also cover the developers.

Hutter experienced a similar situation while building the recently opened housing project for the elderly in Fond du Lac.

A copy of an ordinance adopted in Fond du Lac has been reproduced and Jack Hetu, Appleton planning director, is preparing to introduce it to the planning commission on Oct. 20. Based on normal procedural timing, Hetu said the proposal could be reported by the commission to the city council on Nov. 5, but it would take another two months to emerge as an ordinance in force.

Waives Requirements

The ordinance waives requirements for lot size, floor space, yard set-backs and off-street parking where low-rent housing for the elderly is involved, if it is being built for or by the housing authority.

Chance to Travel
The GOP Congressional Campaign Committee is headed by California Rep. Bob Wilson, and among its executive board is Wisconsin's Ninth District Rep. Glenn Davis of Waukesha.

In a recent mailing to Bull Elephant Club members, GOP office staffers were offered the chance to travel throughout the national doing advance work for three-man teams of Republican Congressman heading into Democratic-held districts before Nov. 8.

One such team recently traveled to Wisconsin's Seventh District — and may have ended up doing Obey more good than harm.

Making the expedition were Republican Reps. William Scherle of Iowa, Clarence Brown of Ohio and Burt Talcott of California. They managed to get caught on thorny issues of defense posture and the national grape boycott in a district which elected Obey on platform opposition to the anti-ballistic missile system in an agriculturally-activist district.

The special GOP program has been dubbed by the Congressional committee as the "R. S. V. P." program — for "Republicans Speak on Vital Problems."

Two Touchy Topics

Parking on Lawn, More Judges' Pay Face County Board

Parking on the courthouse lawn and salary increases for the county judges are expected to generate enough discussion to keep Outagamie County supervisors busy Tuesday during October's county board meeting.

Supv. Marvin Babbitt, Seymour, chairman of the board's finance committee, also is expected to forewarn the board of what to anticipate on the county budget for 1970.

Courthouse parking has been a thorn in the county board's side for years and the proposal to convert the front lawn into parking stalls has been debated on numerous occasions. Sides are usually drawn between those who want to preserve the esthetic beauty of the lawn and those who feel the space is too valuable to use for only growing grass.

Presented Last Month
The proposal to increase the salaries of the county judges was presented at the September meeting of the county board but was tabled without any action being taken.

The courts and justice committee had requested the personnel committee to conduct a study and recommend a $2,000 county supplement to the salaries.

The state presently has set the judges' salaries at $17,500 but some counties provide an additional supplement. These range from $1,000 to $5,000 in the state.

Another holdover item, an airport operation ordinance, is expected to be approved by the board.

The ordinance, which spells out duties and responsibilities at the airport, was referred to the executive committee for study last month. Only minor changes in wording were made.

Fund Transfers

Other proposals to come before the board include two requests for fund transfers from the contingency fund.

The public properties committee has asked for $9,980 for the razing of six buildings on the old county farm property. The land, once it is cleared, will be turned over to the county hospital trustees and become part of the hospital grounds.

A transfer of $4,000 has been requested by the finance committee for the county nurse's office to provide oral polio vaccine for county school children.

Green Bay Convocation UWGB Starts Year One

GREEN BAY — In a formal, ceremonial manner Thursday night, the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay launched its Year One.

The university made a case for itself in prepared speeches by representatives of the students, faculty and administration and representatives of the state institutions to which the university owes its existence welcomed the infant school into academia.

And, Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review, lauded the university as the only institution in the nation that has taken the responsibility to consider the role of man to his environment from all angles.

In addition to the speech-making, the ceremony provided the occasion for the university to make its first award, similar to an honorary degree.

Chosen for the award of merit was Dr. William Anderson, professor emeritus and former chairman of the political science department at the University of Minnesota.

The teacher, author and former president of the American Political Science Association was a former colleague of Dr. Edward Weidner, chancellor of UWGB. Weidner was Anderson's student and later faculty colleague at the University of Minnesota, co-researcher and co-author of four books on America, state and local government.

Greeting the new university from their positions to oversee it politically and academically were Gov. Warren P. Knowles, Abbot Byfield of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education, Dr. James Nelson, president of the UW Board of Regents, and Dr. Fred Harvey Harrington, president of the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Harry Guilford, chairman of the UWGB university committee, and Dennis A. Borkovec, president of the four-campus united student government, greeted the small crowd of invited guests and representatives of 60 Midwest colleges and universities.

Weidner described the university's mission, its commitment to the Upper Great Lakes community in which it is located, in his major address to the convocation.

He outlined the factors he hopes will make UWGB a "communiversity" with a continuous, productive working relationship between the university and community. He described the situation that should develop as "a socially responsible university relating to a socially responsible community."

Unlike the relations between other universities and the communities in which they are built, Weidner said the UWGB has formed creative ties with each of the communities in which it has campuses, the communities through representatives are involved in both planning and providing the university education on and off campus, and the university is in turn providing assets to the communities.

While the chancellor presented his view of the university's role that he has outlined and emphasized and institutionalized many times, Cousins took his turn at the podium to praise UWGB for its mission.

The New Yorker who has long made Saturday Review a place for airing his pleas to save the environment from man's excesses was at home among UWGB people who are hoping to instill this concern in UWGB students.

Cousins told a tale of doom as he outlined the threat of killing air pollution in New York, the eating up of agricultural land at the rate of two million acres a year in the U.S. for highways and cities, the rapid death of the Great Lakes and soon the Atlantic Ocean, the ultimate shortage of food where an agricultural surplus has been maintained for years.

The most important problems facing the world, Cousins said, are war and peace, population pressure, world resources and environmental contamination. These things, he said, are world problems in a time when there is no world power to work on them.

National efforts to solve them are not adequate, he said, because national efforts ultimately reflect national interest to the detriment of world interests.

What UWGB is doing with its academic program, Cousins said, is making an important start, toward recognizing and meeting world needs, and hopefully sharing its observations and solutions.
